WORK ON THE SHAWNEETOWN BRIDGE across the Ohio River continues at a rapid pace, with less than one span to be completed to connect the steel work. The huge, overhead superstructure, all being built from the Kentucky side of the river, will extend westward to a point about where the steel work is completed from the Illinois side of the river at present, a distance of approximately 700 feet. It was stated late last week, that barring unforeseen delay, all work should be completed by the first of next year. (Register Staff Photo)

Franson Moved From Shawnee Forest Post

Exchange of personnel between the Shawnee and the White Mountain national forests was announced today by E. N. Lee, forest supervisor of the Shawnee forest at Harrisburg.

John E. Franson, for the past two years on the staff of the Shawnee, is being transferred to the White Mountain headquarters at Lacombe, New Hampshire. Kenneth P. Butterfield, who has been on the eastern forest for more than eight years will fill the staff position on the Shawnee.

Franson and Butterfield are both forestry graduates with B. S. degrees. Franson from the University of Michigan and Butterfield from the University of New Hampshire. The latter also has an M. S. degree from the Yale Forestry school. Both men have over 20 years experience with the Forest Service.

Franson started with the Forest Service in 1933 on the Lower Michigan serving as technical foreman in the Civilian Conservation Corps camps. Then as staff assistant in the forest supervisor's office and later ranger at East Tawas, Mich. He also served about three and a half years in the Army, being discharged as a Captain in 1946. He transferred to the Shawnee in 1953.

Butterfield also started as a foreman in a CCC camp, but in Connecticut. From 1934 to 1940 he became first, an assistant district ranger on the Cumberland (Kentucky), then on the Green Mountain (Vermont), and the White Mountain national forest which is located in New Hampshire and Maine. After that he was ranger on the Monongahela forest in West Virginia. From 1944 to 1947 he served as a staff assistant on the Jefferson (Virginia) before going to the White Mountain forest in the same capacity. In 1952, he became assistant forest supervisor of this forest.

The Shawnee national forest was first organized in 1933 in southern Illinois. As a result of land purchases in that state and later the addition of three ranger districts in Missouri, this forest now administers approximately 676,000 acres of government land and protects over one million acres from woods fires in both states. Ranger district headquarters are located at Jonesboro, Vienna, and Elizabethtown in Illinois and at Poplar Bluff, Doniphan, and Winona in Missouri.

Mr. Butterfield is married and has two children. He will bring his family to Harrisburg in the near future.

Boy Breaks Leg

Larry Moore, 12-year-old son of Mrs. Velma Moore and the late Dale Moore, suffered a broken leg Sunday while playing at the Moore reunion. The boy was riding on a trailer pulled by a tractor and jumped off onto a haystack. The jump was short, however, and a wheel of the trailer ran over his leg, breaking it near the ankle.

Leg Amputated

Jim Roe Sullivan who had suffered for several weeks from a blood clot in his left leg underwent surgery Thursday to amputate the limb at the Barnes hospital in St. Louis. Reports from Mr. Sullivan say he is recovering satisfactorily.

Wilson Named To State Post in Nickell's Office

R. Dale Wilson, Saline county educator who resides in Harrisburg, has been named assistant state superintendent of public instruction in charge of agencies for surplus properties.

The appointment was made by Vernon L. Nickell, state superintendent of public instruction and Mr. Wilson went to work on his new job Aug. 15.

Mr. Wilson completed eight years as Saline county superintendent of schools Aug. 1 of this year. For 18 years he taught in the Harrisburg City Schools system, resigning as principal of McKinley school in 1943 after he was elected to the county post.

In his new job Mr. Wilson will work out of the Springfield office, spending about half the time in Springfield and the remaining half in the field. He will be in charge of his particular department in all 102 counties of the state.

His position entails securing and distributing federal properties, not including food, which have been declared surplus. All public and private schools, tax-supported institutions and other certain non-profit organizations are eligible to make application for these commodities.

Mr. Wilson plans to maintain his residence in Harrisburg.

Speakers Paint Bright Picture For Labor at Celebration Here

PMW President and Sen. Glen Jones Address Large Crowd

Speakers at the Labor Day observance at the fairgrounds here yesterday pointed to a bright picture for labor if it remains as alert in times to come as it has been during the past several decades.

Hundreds of people visited the fairgrounds during the morning, afternoon and evening sessions for the entertainment and speeches. The speeches were good, so was the entertainment. In addition there were several contests for the young people.

The morning session was opened with an address of welcome by Harrisburg Mayor Claud Gibbons, who welcomed the organizations of labor to this city to observe the day set aside in their honor. He pointed to the great strides made by labor and pictured the importance of the laboring man in the development of this country.

PMW President Speaks Louis Karlovic of Mt. Olive, Ill., president of the Progressive Mine Workers of America, painted a bright picture for the coal mining industry in his address.

President Karlovic, introduced by Eugene Hughes, PMWA board member from this district, after telling of the great gains by labor and what labor means to this country, said that the outlook for coal mining looks much better because of a change in the industrial picture.

One reason, he said, is that the utilities are now using more coal during the summer months than during the winter due to increased summer loads, whereas in the past the summer load was light.

Mrs. Carrie Wilson Receives Praise From Stratton

Mrs. Carrie Wilson, aged resident of this city, has received a nice letter of tribute from William G. Stratton, Governor of Illinois.

The letter, STATE OF ILLINOIS EXECUTIVE OFFICE SPRINGFIELD, was dated August 31, 1955.

Mrs. Carrie Wilson, 403 East Poplar Street, Harrisburg, Illinois, Dear Mrs. Wilson:

My attention has been called to an article which appeared in a recent issue of The Daily Register of Harrisburg telling about your active participation in the civic and religious affairs of your community even though you are past ninety-eight years old.

I think it is remarkable that you are so sprightly at your age and that you continue to maintain your interests in community activities.

With best wishes, Sincerely, /s/ William G. Stratton Governor

The letter referred to an article in The Daily Register of Aug. 10, telling of "Aunt Carrie" Wilson's interest in community affairs. Although past 98-years-of-age she voted in the special election Aug. 9 and has missed very few elections in her life time. She also is a regular church attendant.

Also, he said, the utilities are recognizing that coal produces more and better power per dollar spent than any other means of producing electricity.

Old Ideas Changed: Jones Another reason, he stated is that Europe is restoring its industry but will need coal that it cannot secure unless it buys from the United States.

President Karlovic singled out one Saline county resident — Charles Grace of Harrisburg — and praised him for his constant work for unionism over a long lifetime. State Senator Glen O. Jones of Raleigh spoke, telling the plight of the laboring man 130 years ago, "when the world had the idea that the working man had no rights at all—he was just the same as a draft horse."

"Then," he continued, "the idea was born that the working man could take care of himself, and had great rights of his own."

"Formerly, he starved to death if he didn't do exactly what the man of wealth told him to do; but now labor is a partner in the running of the country."

"It has been a bitter struggle but labor is no longer a commodity and as long as we have active labor organizations it will never come back."

Praises Guaranteed Wage Jones dwelt upon the guaranteed annual wage pioneered by the automobile workers' union, and declared:

"The annual guaranteed wage scares some people to death but it is a great idea for a working family to know what it can plan on. I think this guaranteed wage can and will be carried on to the coal industry."

He pointed to the system of Social Security, which he said would never have been brought about if it had not been for the working man. He also said he believed this was only a beginning, that more improvements can be made — but won't unless the working man is interested and works for them.

Luther Ford, 73, Is Found Dead In His Home Here

Luther Ford, 73-year-old resident of 426 West Homer street was found dead in his home yesterday about noon.

Coroner Elmer M. Gibbons, who made an inquiry, said that Mr. Ford, a widower who had lived alone since his wife died about a year ago, had suffered a heart condition.

He got up and dressed yesterday morning and apparently was starting out the back door when he fell dead, Mr. Gibbons stated.

The body was taken to the Gibbons funeral home where the funeral will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Gibbons chapel. The Rev. Henry Estes of Rosiclare will conduct the funeral rites and burial will be in the Big Ridge cemetery.

Survivors include: Four children, Mrs. May Meacham, Mrs. Tessie Erwin, Mrs. Bertha Dunn and Mrs. Blanch Seets of this city; two brothers, Arthur Ford of Harrisburg and Gilbert Ford of Charleston, Mo.; and one sister, Mrs. Nellie Stout of Tucson, Ariz.

Ready to Free Two Others When They Ask

Part of Group of 41 Whose Release Is Sought by U. S.

GENEVA (AP) — Communist China announced today it has granted exit permits to nine Americans "who may now depart" for their homeland, and is ready to free two others when they ask to leave.

A 12th American will be permitted to leave in two or three months when his business affairs are cleared up.

The Reds also announced that three other persons, one believed to be a Dutchman, will be allowed to leave the China mainland immediately.

Chinese Ambassador to Poland Wang Pingnan made the disclosure when he met today to discuss with U. S. Ambassador to Czechoslovakia U. Alexis Johnson the exchange of nationals of each other's country.

The Americans to be freed are part of a group of 41 known to be in Communist hands and whose release has been demanded by the U. S. government.

Two Others May Go A communique issued after Wang and Johnson met for 2½ hours and then adjourned until next Saturday said the nine Americans had applied for and been granted exit permits.

It said two other Americans identified as Bishop James Edward Walsh and Mrs. Peter Huizer, had not yet applied for permits but could have them upon request.

The communique also said that another American, identified as Charles Sydney Miner, could leave Red China "when the affairs of the company with which he is connected are cleared up."

Chinese officials listed the Americans to be freed as:

Miss Emma Angelina Barry, Ralph Sharples Boyd, Mrs. Juanita Byrd Hwang, Robert Howard Parker, Howard Lischke Ricks, Mrs. Howard Lischke Ricks, Miss Eva Stella Dugay (Sister Theresa), Mrs. Nadeshda M. Romanoff, Miss Irene N. Romanoff.

The communique said the persons listed had applied for exit permits from Red China and "could now depart."

Miss Emma Angelina Barry is a child. Her age was not known, but her mother is believed to be a White Russian, a U. S. spokesman said. She is now in Shanghai.

Midwest Natives Included Ralph Sharples Boyd, a busi-nessman representing a North American syndicate in Shanghai. He was born in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Juanita Byrd Hwang was born in Mt. Olive, Miss., in 1908. Parker was born in 1873 in Philadelphia. He is a retired businessman and presently is in Shanghai.

Howard L. Ricks was born in Boscomb, Wis., in 1889. He was manager of Bills Motors in Shanghai. He will be released with his wife, the spokeswoman said.

Mrs. Nadeshda M. Romanoff is in Harbin at present. She was identified as a naturalized American citizen. Her daughter Irene is 15.

Miss Eva Stella Dugay, Sister Theresa, was born in New York in 1893.

Bishop Walsh is a Maryknoll missionary in Shanghai and director of the Roman Catholic Bureau. No place or date of birth was given.

Mrs. Peter Huizer was born in Ashgrove, Ill., in 1916. Her husband is Dutch, but his name was not on the list submitted by Wang. Both still are in Shanghai, where Huizer was manager for the Bank of America.

Rudolph Reeder, 50, Dies at Eldorado

Rudolph Reeder, 50, of Eldorado, died in Pearce hospital in Eldorado at 2:30 a. m. Monday after entering the hospital at 5 a. m. Sunday.

Coroner Elmer M. Gibbons was called to make an inquiry into the death and said that the cause of his death was not known, although it was due to natural causes. First findings from an autopsy failed to disclose the cause.

Mr. Reeder, who was employed at the Martin funeral home, leaves his mother, Mrs. R. L. Clark; his stepfather, a son, Charles Reeder, in the U. S. Army in Germany; a daughter, Mrs. James Tucker of St. Louis; two half-brothers, Ike Willford and George Hirst of Eldorado; and two grandchildren. The body lies in state at the Martin funeral home. Funeral plans were incomplete.

Al W. Leonhard, De Kalb, Installed as New Illinois American Legion Chief

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Al W. Leonhard, 61, De Kalb, a retired postman who has served in some Legion office ever since 1920, today was the new Illinois American Legion commander for 1955-56.

Leonhard was installed at the closing business session of the state convention Saturday. The convention ended with a three-hour parade in downtown Springfield Sunday afternoon.

Leonhard's leathery face, weathered by 33 years of carrying the mails, was creased with tears when he addressed the convention Saturday. "I expect to give you all I've got and I'll expect each of you to give me all you've got," he told the delegates. His wife and daughter, members of the Legion Auxiliary, stood beside him and shared his happiness.

Leonhard enlisted May 23, 1917, in the old Third Illinois Infantry. He saw service in both the British sector of Aisne-Marne and the American sectors of the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne. He was given the Purple Heart after being gassed at Dannevois Woods.

Cummins Also Elected He joined the Legion in July, 1919. He was elected sergeant-at-arms of De Kalb Post 66 in 1920 and has held a Legion office ever since.

Harold Cummins, outgoing commander of the Cook County Council, manager of the Pure Oil Building in Chicago, and a World War I veteran, was elected senior vice commander over Nick Wilgren, also of Chicago and manager of an auto parts supply establishment.

Outgoing Commander Irving Breakstone was honored at a dinner Saturday night, but in the business sessions there were moves up to the last minute against Breakstone, whom the convention refused to send to the national convention as a delegate according to custom.

Whitlock 40 & 8 Chief S. William Ash, Canton, was elected national executive committeeman, and Michael J. Healy, Chicago, was named alternate national executive committeeman.

Five junior vice commanders were confirmed: Milton Applebaum, Chicago; James Wright, Villa Park, 2nd Division; L. K. Gridley, Peoria, 3rd Division; James Phelan, Lincoln, 4th Division; and Floyd McCracken, Greenville, 5th Division. Fred Whitlock, East St. Louis, was elevated to grand chief de gare to head the state 40 & 8. Eugene Harper, Olney, became the next probable grand chief by being elected chief de train over Dick Thread of Mount Carmel.

Mrs. Katherine Peterson, Victoria, won over three other candidates for state Legion Auxiliary historian, the first step in advancement to the presidency of that organization.

Mrs. Roy M. Mount, Tuscola, assumed the presidency for 1955-56. The convention also decided to give downstate the commandship of the Legion for two out of every three years, and Cook County will elect the commander the third year. Downstate has two-thirds of the state's Legion membership.

Kenneth O. Moore, 46, Former Resident, Dies

Kenneth Oral Moore, 46, a former Harrisburg resident and who was better known as "Quack" Moore, died Monday at 2:30 a. m. in the Veterans hospital in Wadsworth, Kans., where he had been a patient for some time.

He was the son of the late Jacob Milo Moore and Neely Dempsey Moore. He was a graduate of the Harrisburg Township high school with the class of 1926 and entered military service in Harrisburg in 1942. After leaving the service, he made his home in St. Joseph, Mo., where he was an interior decorator by occupation.

He is survived by one aunt, Mrs. Ora Parton, Dixon, Ill., and one uncle, William "Dub" Dempsey, Shawneetown.

The body is being returned to Harrisburg and will arrive Wednesday morning on the New York Central. The funeral will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. in the chapel of the Gaskins funeral home.

40&8 Delegate Is Punched By John Stelle

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—An East St. Louis delegate to the state 40&8 convention today charged ex-Gov. John Stelle, former national American Legion commander, punched him over a 40&8 election contest.

Stelle, 64, McLeansboro, a power in the state legion convention here last week, admitted striking 57-year-old Oscar Miles, but denied it had anything to do with "40&8 politics."

Stelle said he hit Miles because he expected Miles to hit him first in ill-feeling that resulted from a business agreement Miles made to furnish road signs for Cahokia Downs race track, operated by Stelle and George Edward Day of Springfield.

The incident took place last Friday on the crowded mazzanine of the St. Nicholas Hotel in view of numerous Legionnaires and 40&8 members. The blow knocked a pipe from Miles' mouth and a cane from his arm and sent him against the mezzanine railing before bystanders stopped the fight.

It came after 40&8 delegates elected Eugene Harper of Olney chief de train over Dick Thread of Mount Carmel.

Vote For Harper The chief de train contest is the most important 40&8 election because by custom the man elected becomes grand chief de gare the next year. Also by tradition, it was the turn of District Eight, the home district of both Harper and Thread, to elect a chief de train.

Harper's victory upset tradition. In a pre-election caucus held in Stelle's hotel room—although Stelle was not a delegate—the District Eight delegates voted for Thread 14-10.

But in the state election held an hour later in the hotel ballroom, the delegates ignored the District Eight choice and voted 202-26 for Harper. It was after this that Stelle struck Miles, a District Six delegate.

"Stelle was waiting for the elevator on the mezzanine," Miles said. "He said, 'you're the so and so who voted for Harper,' and he hit me. I never expected it and if I had I'd of beat his head in."

"The controversy started over a contract Miles made to furnish road signs for Cahokia Downs race track at East St. Louis," Stelle said. "We had a written contract from him to furnish the signs for 35 cents but when he billed us he tried to charge us 75 cents apiece and you can verify that with George Edward Day."

Day, a Springfield paint supplier, verified Stelle's statement that Miles promised to paint the signs for 35 cents and tried to charge 75. But Day agreed with Miles, and disagreed with Stelle, by stating there was no written contract.

All agreed Miles filed suit and the matter was settled out of court for 65 cents a sign.

Surpasses Prediction by Safety Council

592 Killed in Overall Toll with 73 by Drownings

By United Press Thousands of families took more than five lives each hour of the 78-hour Labor Day weekend, a final United Press tabulation showed today.

The final count showed 443 traffic deaths during the period beginning at 6 p. m. Friday and ending at midnight Monday. The National Safety Council originally believed the death count would be 400, then feared that it might even exceed the record of 453 fatalities set during the 1951 Labor Day weekend.

Council President Ned H. Dearborn said "thank heaven" that the 1951 record, at least, was unbroken.

"But that is slight solace to the thousands of families bereaved by holiday accidents that resulted in death or serious injury," he said.

"And it is of slight comfort to anyone who sincerely believes that this wholesale slaughter on the highway need not and must not be tolerated."

"We hope and believe that extra effort on the part of everyone between now and Christmas will hold down the year-old holiday toll," he said.

In addition to the traffic deaths the United Press count showed 72 deaths by drowning, 10 in plane crashes, and 66 from a variety of accidents for an overall holiday toll of 592.

The worst highway carnage was in California, where a blazing heat wave lured added thousands to the roads and 44 died. Other bad records were posted by Texas with 34, Ohio with 33, Illinois with 30, Michigan with 25, Pennsylvania with 22, and Wisconsin with 20.

In bright contrast, three states—Montana, North Dakota, and Vermont—got through the holiday without a single highway casualty.

30 Killed in Illinois; More Than Predicted

By United Press The death toll on Illinois highways exceeded even the grim forecasts of safety experts during the Labor Day weekend.

A United Press survey showed 30 traffic deaths during the three-day holiday. There were 5 drownings and 3 deaths in miscellaneous mishaps, for a violent death total of 38.

The Chicago Motor Club had predicted 27 Illinois highway deaths.

A freak accident took two lives on Ill. 1 near Cave-in-Rock Monday night. It occurred when the drive shaft on a truck broke and severed the hose to the air brakes on a hill.

The truck, driven by Robert Crockett, 31, Sullivan, rolled backward and smashed into an auto. Killed were Lee Williams, 24, and his father, Alvin, 48, West Frankfort, who were riding in the car.

Mishaps at La Harpe, Padua and Mount Prospect each accounted for two highway fatalities.

Near La Harpe, Mrs. Paul Canagas, Chicago, and her one-year-old son Phillip burned to death when the Canagas car crashed on Ill. 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Etscheid, El Paso, were killed when their auto struck the side of a train at Padua, in McLean county.

A two-car collision on Rand Road near Mount Prospect killed Willie Edwards, 41, and Jessie Herbert, 24, both of Chicago.

William Buck, 26, of Fairfield, Ill., was killed when he lost control of his car on Ill. 150 near Mount Vernon, and crashed into a utility pole.

Two Auto Collisions Here Over Week End

City police reported two auto collisions in which nobody was injured over the holiday week-end.

At 10 a. m. Monday automobiles driven by Jerome Bishop and Leslie F. Waite collided at Walnut and Cherry streets.

At 7:55 p. m. Saturday automobiles driven by John Vincent Cole, Carrier Mills, and Joe Harrison Lewis, Rosiclare, collided at Route 34 and the Dorris Heights road north of town.

The accident report said that Cole made a left turn off Route 34 as Lewis was approaching and the crash resulted. Cole was arrested on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol and was fined $150 and costs when arraigned before Police Magistrate Vern Joyner Jr.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

JACK ANDERSON Says:
Scientists Test Mind-Reading Machine: Truman Sore At Pauley For Entertaining Nixon: GAO Investigating Air Force Extravagance.

(Editor's Note — While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation his column is being written by members of his staff.)

WASHINGTON. — It is still in the secret developmental stage, but electronic scientists are working on a device that will read people's minds.

Dr. Thomas P. Goldsmith, research vice president for Allen B.
Du Mont Laboratories, acknowledges to this column that his staff is experimenting with a thoughtreading machine. Successful tests, in fact, have already been held.

"We ask someone questions. We can tell what he is getting ready to say even though he may not have said it," Dr. Goldsmith explained.

"It has me a little scared," he added.

Stressing that their research is in the early stages, Goldsmith explained that electronic thoughtreading machine is based on somewhat the same principle as the electro-encephalograph, which measures brain waves.

"We are learning about mechanisms of communication between people," he said. "I guess you would say we are investigating the sixth sense."

Asked how he feels about his experiments with electronic mind-reading, he replied: "A little like scientists must have felt on the threshold of discovering atomic energy."

Note: Another Du Mont Laboratories spokesman later stressed that a thought-reading machine is a long way off. He estimated that the laboratories probably would issue no formal news on their discoveries for another five years.

TRUMAN'S GRUDGE AGAINST NIXON

Inside reason ex-President Truman called off his political barn—storming trip to California is that he's sore at oil millionaire Ed Pauley.

Truman was supposed to be the featured attraction at a Democratic fund-raising dinner that Pauley is promoting in Los Angeles. The former president was all fired up to invade California when he heard Pauley had entertained Vice President Nixon.

If there's one man Truman can't stand, it's the GOP vice president.
Truman snorted angrily that he wouldn't be the guest of anyone who licks Nixon's boots.

A dozen big Democrats, including Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler, begged Truman to reconsider. But the ex-president, who is sometimes stubborn as a Missouri mule, wouldn't budge.

HOFFMAN CENSORS REMARK

Michigan's snapping, snorting Congressman Clare Hoffman barely escaped going on record as a public power enthusiast, a role that would have been highly out of character for the conservative Republican.

At congressional power hearings, Hoffman was taking his usual stand that low-cost power from federal dams is just another give-away.

"I might say," interrupted subcommittee counsel James Lanigan,
"that we have another witness, as you know, from the National Rural Electric Cooperatives Association—Mr. Ellis."

"Yes, I know him," snorted Hoffman. "We all have many letters from him. He not only wants the electric power for electrifying his farm, but he wants us to manufacture the bulbs, set up the telephone poles and creosote the ends. He wants the REA to go into all business."

"I am in favor of all that, too just before election," added Hoffman slyly.

When the stenographer's transcript came to Hoffman's office for corrections, he thought twice about being in favor of all that, too, just before election. He used a heavy lead pencil to censor out his confession that he is a public power advocate around election time.

SECRET REPORT AIRS CHARGES

The General Accounting Office,
Uncle Sam's bookkeeping agency, wants to know why the Air Force is paying an estimated $24,000 apiece for radio transmitted-receivers that the Navy is buying for $5,900.

A confidential investigator's report charges that the Air Force's ARC-21 signal unit is almost identical with the Navy's ARC-38, yet the Air Force is paying four times the Navy price.

The confidential report further declares: "Investigation indicates that many of the (Air Force) sets, which have been installed in aircraft, have been removed and replaced with other equipment to keep the aircraft operational, and that the performance of the set has been so completely unsatisfactory that at least one major command (MATS) already has secured approval to change over to more conventional and less costly equipment, and two other major commands, which account for the bulk of the processed equipment, are considering changing over."

"Preliminary investigation indicates that the initial production contract for the ARC-21 was let, notwithstanding the fact that the developmental work had not been completed; and that the Air Force has persisted with increases in the production contracts notwithstanding the failure of developmental prototypes to pass Air Force tests and the opinion of certain Air Force personnel, including the project engineer for the equipment, that it may take two to five years of additional research and development to perfect it."

Note: The troublesome ARC-21 was produced by the Radio Corporation of America. In fact, the Air Force had so much trouble with the equipment in India that it had to fly RCA technicians to India to make repairs.

Hill. At an unnoticed House hearing, comptroller of the currency
Ray Gidney blandly remarked:
"What is good for the banking industry bears some relation to what is good for the country." . . . Gid-ney was referring to the way big banks have been gobbling up little banks. Bank mergers soared from 116 in 1953 to 207 in 1954. The 1955 total is expected to pass the 250 mark. . . . Some economists disagree with Gidney that concentrating bank resources in the hands of the big bankers is healthy for the country. . . . After Drew Pearson revealed how the Federal Power Commission circumvented the law to stretch out hydroelectric licenses as long as 99 years, one FPC employee was heard to remark: "Phew! Drew Pearson certainly has a line into this place!" . . . Though this column has been critical of businessmen serving the government but paid by their companies, one who is doing an excellent job is Associated Industries' Roy Williams. As chief of the International Trade Fairs office, he has put the American way-of-life on display in 16 world fairs in direct competition with the Russians. Lately, the Russians have withdrawn from five fairs when they learned the United States was entered. . . . A bachelor in private life, Williams has semi-adopted more than 20 underprivileged youths and given them the finest education.

Soviets Free Mystery Man Posing as American

BERLIN (AP) — A mystery man released by the Soviets as an American said today his real name was Klobitz and that he only posed as an American because the Soviets insisted he was one.

The mystery man, with piercing blue eyes and a small mustache was turned over to U. S. authorities Monday under the name of Frederick M. Hopkins of New York City. Two American soldiers were released at the same time.

Hopkins told Army authorities today he was not American but an Army spokesman said he "tells conflicting stories and we cannot determine what his nationality is."

The two U. S. soldiers released were Pvt. Michael Feingersch, 36, also known as Murray Fields, of New York City, and Wilfred Cum-ish, 39, of Newburyport, Mass.

Cumish disappeared from his intelligence unit in Vienna March 24, 1948. Feingersch disappeared from his constabulary unit in Nuremberg, West Germany, June 2, 1948. They had been in Soviet prisons more than seven years.

Coney Island

Many theories are advanced as to how Coney Island, New York, received its name, the one most generally accepted being that the Dutch settlers named it Konijn Eyland (Rabbit Island) because of the number of rabbits there.

Whale meat is used extensively in Japan and some European countries. One whale produces as much meat as 100 head of cattle.

The tour will be climaxed in November, when Stevenson has promised to tell whether he will run again for the presidency.

Stevenson's Look article attacked the Eisenhower administration on a broad front. It listed "serious failures," one of them "The anxiety at home and the lost confidence abroad that resulted from trying to please both wings of the Republican Party."

The Snow letter was released on the third anniversary of the national plowing contest at Kasson in which both Stevenson and Mr. Eisenhower stated their farm policies.

"Since that day three years ago, the farm situation has steadily worsened under an administration that embraces flexible price supports while maintaining distressing rigidity of mind," Stevenson said.

He accused the Eisenhower administration of "taking a free, if hazardous, ride" on prosperity created under Democratic regimes.

Under the GOP leadership, Stevenson said, "big food processing corporations prosper hugely while individual farm incomes drastically decline."

In his Look article, Stevenson said Mr. Eisenhower was unable to "recover control of the conduct of foreign policy" until a Democratic congress was elected.

Mrs. C. W. Whitley returned home Monday after spending two weeks with two daughters and families. She was called to Dayton, Ohio, by the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Fredric Royalty who is recovering nicely now. She spent most of her visit with Mr. and Mrs. Royalty and family. The latter part of her visit was spent with Mrs. H. H. Acton and family in Danville, Ill.

Miss Georgia Faye Ellis, Russell Leon Kirby Wed at Ridgway Sunday, Aug. 28

Mrs. Russell Leon Kirby (Ronnie's Studio Photo)

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Georgia Faye Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell H. Ellis, Ridgway, and Russell Leon Kirby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kirby, also of Ridgway, which took place Sunday afternoon, Aug. 28, at four o'clock at the Methodist church in Ridgway.

Seventy Cecil Robbins of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, officiated at the impressive candlelight ceremony in a beautiful setting of woodwardia ferns, baskets of white gladioli and blue delphiniums. The pews of the bridal aisle, down which a white runner was laid, were marked with small bouquets of white chrysanthemums tied with white satin ribbon. Small bouquets of blue and white flowers adorned the altar rail.

The two hundred twenty-five guests, invited to witness the double-ring ceremony, were ushered to their seats by Don Hise, and Lyold Williams.

Preceding the ceremony, Russ Ellis, brother of the bride, gave a program of organ selections and accompanied the soloist, Paul Cotton, as he sang "I Love Thee" by Grieg, before the ceremony. As the mother of the bride was shown to her seat, the soloist sang "Wedding Bells" written for the bride and groom by the bride's brother.

Tom Holderby of Ridgway served as best man for the bridegroom and Bruce Johnson of Norris City was the groomsmen.

Preceding the bride and her father to the altar were the bridesmaids, Miss Jo Frances Kirby, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Vivian Peuckert of Glencoe, sorority sister of the bride; Mrs. Walter Brown, matron-of-honor, and Miss Wanda Wood, maid-of-honor.

The bride was exquisitely gowned in white embroidered tulle. Her dress was styled with a shirred neckline which had a sweetheart neckline and short sleeves. The voluminous skirt, floor length in front, featured six ruffles extending from a plain panel in the center front into a cathedral train. Her veil of finger tip length fell in soft folds over her shoulders and arms, from a crown decorated with seed pearls and pearlized sequins. She wore for "something old," a locket of her great-grandmother's and for "something borrowed," earrings belonging to the maid-of-honor. Lovely elbow length mitts, to match her dress, and a beautiful bouquet of white tube roses, stephanotis and blue painted raisies overlaying a white Bible, a gift from Mrs. Pearl Sherman of Harrisburg, a former music teacher of the bride, completed the bride's ensemble.

Mrs. Janie Threet had as weekend and Labor Day guests in her home Mrs. Dorothy Edwards, Mrs. Francis McDole and daughter Joan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edwards and grandson, Larry Gene Mrs. Doris Edwards of Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Threet and son, Willy, and Mrs. Eva Hopewell of Louisville, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. Otis Threet, Pontiac, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Reed, Harrisburg.

Wayne Brantley, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Brantley of Harrisburg, underwent surgery last Thursday at the Children's hospital in the Barnes group in St. Louis. It would cheer him up to hear from his friends, who may address mail to him to Barnes Children's hospital, 500 South Kingshighway, St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. James White and daughter, Maleta, were in St. Louis visiting last week and were accompanied home by Mrs. Carrie Eickmeier and granddaughter, Carolyn. St. Louis, who spent the week end and Labor Day in Harrisburg visiting in the White home.

Mrs. Julia Healy, 205 East Dayton, has had as a recent guest in her home her cousin, Mrs. Anna Belle Irwin of Carmi.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ritchey and daughter, Phyllis Webb, Clarence Doris of Kankakee, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Webb and sons, Chuckie and Kenny of Joliet visited here over Labor Day.

Bethany Class Enjoys Potluck at Hiller Home

The monthly meeting of the Bethany class of the Young Adult Department Sunday school of the First Baptist church was held at the home of the teacher, Mrs. D. H. Hiller, Thursday, Sept. 1. A hamburger fry and potluck supper were enjoyed on the patio of the Hiller home, followed by a brief business meeting conducted by the class president, Mrs. Max McDowell.

A beautiful devotion based on the picture "Praying Hands" was given by Mrs. R. J. Morman, and a tribute to the teacher in the form of a lovely poem entitled "Ode to Grace," written by Mrs. Robert Pulliam, a guest and former member of the class, was read. Mrs. Hiller was also presented a beautiful pottery container filled with various small plants and straw flowers, as she will be leaving the class with the beginning of the new Sunday school year, Oct. 1, to work in another department.

Mrs. Hiller thanked the class for the faithfulness and devotion of its members, telling them that the highest reward any teacher can have is to see the deepening of the Christian life of those whom she tries to teach. The remainder of the evening was spent in visiting and recalling various happenings of the class.

Mrs. McDowell and Mrs. Charles Sutton served as co-hostesses with Mrs. Hiller. Others present were Mrs. Paul McSparrin, Mrs. Robert Cook, Mrs. Russell Rose, Mrs. Loren Butler, Mrs. Noble Mitchell, Mrs. Morman, and the guests and former class members, Mrs. Pulliam, Chicago, and Mrs. Bill Boyett, West Frankfort.

Mrs. Jesse Hunt was a guest at the wedding of Miss Betty Welch and Loren Bumpus in Mt. Vernon, Ill., Aug. 28. The large wedding was held in the Methodist church and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harmon. Her daughter, Emalee Hunt, is a friend of the bride and served as a bridesmaid at the wedding.

Schedule Meeting Thursday in Joppa Dispute

JOPPA, Ill. (AP)—Another negotiation meeting is set between management and operating engineers at the huge Joppa steam power plant where a strike is threatened.

Plant manager Turner White says a meeting has been set for Thursday. Federal labor conciliators will attend the meeting.

The 212 workers at the Joppa plant are represented by Local 314 of the International Union of Operating Engineers. They voted to strike last Saturday unless a new contract was reached but the strike was postponed.

Union business agent Norman Barnes said Saturday the strike was postponed indefinitely.

The Joppa plant supplies electricity to the Atomic Energy Commission plant at Paducah, Ky. It is owned by Electric Energy Inc., a combine of several utility firms.

To speed up the time of one express train may mean changes in the timing of 300 other trains.

Latin Calls Us Mass Fashion Taste Victims

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—One South American fashion expert says that women of the United States, from Mamie Eisenhower on down, lack individuality in dress.

The U. S. woman buys a fashion because it's one her neighbors are wearing, said J. S. Peliks. She is a tad follower.

"So few U. S. women understand clothes," he said. "They make wonderful customers. They are easy to sell."

Peliks said the well-dressed woman of South America wants a dress or suit which is hers alone. She does not follow the newspapers or fashion magazines to know what everyone else is wearing. And she goes to Paris instead of New York for most of her clothes.

One Copy
Peliks, for 28 years in the fashion business, is president of Cananda, in Rio de Janeiro. His store is comparable in fashion leadership here to a Neiman-Marcus, I. Magnin, or Lord and Taylor in the United States. He is a frequent visitor to the states.

Interviewed in his offices here, Peliks recalled last spring's incident in Washington when Mrs. Eisenhower and another Washington woman arrived at a reception in the same Mollie Parnis-designed dress. The dress, it turned out, also had been sold to several hundred other women.

"Such would never happen here," said Peliks. "One reason is the Brazilian woman's inherent desire for individuality. The United States mass produces fashion. We do not."

"My shop will copy a Paris design," said Peliks. "But it will be made for only one customer. A New York manufacturer will turn out 500 copies."

No Designing
The women of Rio and Sao Paulo rate among the world's best-dressed. Their social life—built around receptions, cocktail parties and balls, calls for more formal clothes than most U. S. women ever need. Mrs. Jorgie Guinle, a former New York model married to one of Brazil's wealthiest men, told me she needs 10 ball gowns to every suit in her wardrobe.

She, like most of the Brazilian women, goes to Paris at least once a year on a clothes-buying spree. Her favorite designer is Pierre Balmain.

But Peliks said an increasing number of Brazilian women are turning to the United States for their casual, sports and beach wear.

"It is in these fields," he said, "where U. S. designers show their daring and originality. Otherwise, Paris is the world's fashion capital, and will be so long as it is also the gathering spot for the world's creative talent."

Brazil, Peliks said, is making no effort to produce its own Dior and Fathoms.

"A Brazilian trying to design clothes is about like an Englishman trying to compose a samba," he said.

Withdraw Neutral Truce Inspectors From 5 Korean Cities

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Thirty-two neutral nation truce inspectors, including 23 Czechs and Poles, accused as "spies" by the Rhee government, today were withdrawn from five South Korean cities.

The withdrawal was a decision of the Joint Military Armistice Commission to reduce the number of ports of entry in North and South Korea from 10 to 6 and to cut down the size of the truce inspection teams.

The United Nations Military Command reluctantly agreed to the reduction, the first major change in the 2-year-old armistice. The U. N., which has charged repeatedly that the Communist members have "obstructed" the teams' operations in North Korea, advocated abolition of the Neutral Nations Commission.

FCC Recommends CBS Application for Channel 11 at St. Louis

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission today recommended granting the Columbia Broadcasting System's application for a new television station on Channel 11 at St. Louis.

The examiner, Thomas H. Donahue, at the same time recommended denial of four other applications in the Channel 11 contest.

Charged with Receiving Stolen Property

Nixon Sees Race Between Eisenhower, And Stevenson, Harriman or Kefauver

DENVER (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon foresees a 1956 presidential race between President Eisenhower and one of three Democratic candidates—Adlai E. Stevenson, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, or Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Nixon expressed his views on the national political situation at a press conference after a top secret national security meeting with President Eisenhower. But he emphasized he did not discuss politics with the President.

Most Republican leaders, he said, are confident the President will run again and are basing their campaign plans on that assumption. Nixon told reporters he "never saw the President look better" than he looked Monday. "I feel he is in tip-top shape both physically and mentally," he added.

The vice president admitted that the GOP may be in serious political trouble in the farm belt because of falling crop prices.

But he said he is not as pessimistic about it as some people think the Republicans should be.

He flatly dismissed the controversy over Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) as a campaign issue in 1956 and predicted the GOP will win because it is "more unified than at any time since 1952."

Nixon's repudiation of McCarthy, his one-time committee-man in the Senate, was the bluntest brushing aside the Wisconsin Republican has received to date from a top-ranking elected official of his own party.

The vice president admitted that the McCarthy issue was a "major divisive force" in the 1954 congressional elections which the Republicans lost.

But now, he said, the McCarthy issue, leaving out the man, is no longer a serious divisive force in the Republican Party.

APPLETON, Wis. (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin said he "heartily disagrees" with Vice President Richard Nixon's "reasoning that if you can not destroy Eisenhower you must rubber-stamp and approve every mistake of his administration."

The Republican senator's comment was a reply to Nixon's statement Monday that McCarthy was no longer a divisive force in the GOP.

BROTHERS

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—The North brothers—Fred, Ted and Tom—of Granite City, Ill., believe in doing things together. They all served in the Army, all became coal dealers, all gave up business to become school teachers, and, to become school teachers, enrolled together at Southern Illinois university. Now they are taking the same courses in SIU's graduate school and all are honor students.

Stratton May Order Speed Limit

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton today said he will set a statewide speed limit of 60 or 65 miles per hour by executive proclamation if he finds he has legal power.

But he said if this "emergency" speed limit, increased state police patrolling and other methods fail to cut highway deaths "in the next four or five months," Stratton said he will call a special session of the Legislature to pass a new speed limit law.

Six-Months-Old Girl Killed, Mother Hurt In Runaway Elevator

NEW YORK (AP)—A six-month-old girl was crushed to death and her mother critically injured Monday when the girl's carriage became caught in a runaway elevator.

Police said the tragedy occurred when Mrs. Marie Handwork, 25, pulled the carriage holding her daughter, Linda, out of an elevator in an apartment house. The carriage apparently hit a handle which operates the elevator and it started to ascent before the carriage was all the way out.

Mrs. Handwork tried to grab the carriage, which had been torn from her grasp, but lost her balance and fell three stories down the elevator. The carriage was crushed between the shaft wall and the elevator and the girl was killed instantly.

Who Rides With Wyatt

by Will Henry

Distributed by MIA, Copyright 1954, 1955 by Will Henry. Used by arrangement with Random House.

THE STORY: Wyatt Earp, ousted as Tombstone's deputy sheriff, disappears. Johnny Behan has been spreading rumors that Earp has been holding up the Benson stage. Shortly thereafter when some bandits tackle the stage, they are greeted by shotgun blasts and two of their number are halted in their career. Wells Fargo has hired a new express messenger, Wyatt Earp.

XVIII

Word that Wyatt was riding for Wells Fargo got to the right places in plenty of time. There were three mine payrolls a week coming down from Benson: the Lucky Cuss on Monday, the Contention on Wednesday, the Tough Nut on Friday. For the first full week on record, the road agents looked the other way.

Wells Fargo was delighted, the stage crews took a new lease on life, the insurance companies were ready to talk about reducing premiums.

Only Wyatt was unhappy. He had not come to Tombstone to ride $75-a-week shotgun for Wells Fargo.

There was no Sunday run from Benson, so he had laid over in Tombstone Saturday night.

At the Crystal Palace the first customer he spotted was Johnny Ringo.

Wyatt was about to move on when he thought he noticed something a little odd about the way he was handling his cards and chips. The kid was shoving his stack around and fumbling his

"Always admired your mouth, Johnny."

With the hard iron of the statement, he gave Ringo his second look at something he hadn't seen since the Hairy Dog Saloon back in San Angelo. The cavalry 44 didn't maybe "appear by magic" the way the story-writers put it. Likely it was just that Ringo and his pals were watching Wyatt and not his gun. Anyways, there it was just like back in San Angelo, laying there idle and easy in his right hand, not threatening anybody in particular and only sort of wandering around aimless and pleasant-like.

"Unhook your belt and drop it," said Wyatt.

Ringo unhooked and dropped. "Kick them away from you."

Ringo looked at the gentle wave of the wandering 44 and wasted no more time. He kicked.

"Now," said Wyatt slowly, "I'm going to give a wetnose kid a licking he should have gotten a long time ago."

"When I got one bum hand!" "That 'bum hand' is the reason you're going to get whipped," Wyatt wasn't loud about it. "I know how it got hurt and you know I know. In case you got any lingering doubts about it, you drop around to my room at the Cosmopolitan after you wake up, and have yourself a good look at an octagon-barrel 44-40 that got left behind at that Boquilla Springs stage stick-up last Wednesday night."

He paused, eyeing the motionless group at the kid's table. He held up his right hand—"I'll guarantee not to lay this one on you, and we'll start dead even otherwise."

Three things about it, all the same, are still in the Epitaph and Nugget files, and nobody arguing about them even 50 years years after.

No. 1 was the damage bill of $487 turned in to the city council by the Crystal Palace owners next day. Itemized down to the last hand-carved back-bar mirror, busted bottle of eight-dollar hooch, and imported-from-San Francisco, felt-topped poker table.

No. 2 was the fact that Johnny Ringo was the man left laying in the sawdust when it was all over, beaten into a pulp in five minutes of one of the bloodiest barroom free-for-alls in frontier memory.

No. 3 was the point-short speech Wyatt delivered to the boys at Ringo's table, before picking up his guns.

"When he comes around," he said softly to the Sulphur Springs gamblers, "give him a message for me. Tell him the next time I catch him with a busted hand,

Storms Veer From the U. S.

By United Press

Two tropical storms veered away from the nation's borders today, but not until one of them had drenched south Texas and caused 11 deaths in the United States and Mexico.

Meanwhile, Southern California's heat wave blasted on with only following a stage stick-up, he's all through in Tombstone, Ariz., as Jesse James in Clay County, Mo." (To Be Continued) slightly diminished fury and forest fires raged through the state's bone-dry woodlands.

Tropical storm Gladys took a surprise swing into the Mexican interior late Monday after threatening to cause a repeat of the disastrous 1954 floods in the Texas Rio Grande Valley.

The storm's rains and high tides had already led to the drownings of 11 children. Two little girls drowned off Texas' Padre Island and nine children were reported dead in a disastrous slum district flood in Mexico City.

Also in Mexico, a party of 12 Texans were reported marooned by flood waters near San Rafael.

Meanwhile, hurricane Flora began curving toward the north far out in the Atlantic Ocean. The storm, packing 100-mile-per-hour winds, was not a danger to the U. S. coastline, but ships at sea were warned to use caution.

On the West Coast, sizzling Los Angeles was promised a "cool wave" of merely 98 degrees today. The mercury stayed out of the 100's for the first time in six days Monday, getting no higher than 99.

Red Sox Sweep Two from Senators; Yanks, White Sox Split Doubleheaders

By United Press
While the Yankees led the other contenders in a chorus of wailing about wasted opportunities, the Boston Red Sox came barging back into the American league pennant picture today at the very beginning of a very long home stand.

The Red Sox were the only ones to gain ground in the big Labor Day baseball battles as they swept a doubleheader from Washington, 10-2 and 7-2, to push within three games of first place.

The twin wins extended the Red Sox' winning streak to five games and gave them seven wins in the last nine games.

Of all the four contenders, the Red Sox will be the only ones at home when, after today's idle day, play resumes in the pennant chase Wednesday. In fact, they will play 16 of their remaining 19 games at home.

Yanks Most Bitter

The Indians, Yankees, and White Sox could only wish they had done as well as Boston. And the Yankees were the most bitter about their split.

That's because the Yanks think two umpires' decisions cost them their opening game, which was won by Baltimore in 11 innings, 6-5.

In the sixth inning, two Orioles' runs scored on a double by Bob Hale.

Right fielder Hank Bauer of the Yanks thought he caught the ball, but Umpire John Rice ruled he didn't. In the 11th, Chuck Diering scored the winning run when Umpire Larry Napp ruled Yankee third baseman Gil McDougald had interfered with him in a play at third base.

Southpaw Tommy Byrne, batted out in the first inning of the opener, pitched fine relief ball to win the nightcap for New York, 5-3.

League-leading Cleveland bowed to Kansas City in the opener, 5-4, and then came back to win, 9-2.

Southpaw Billy Hoelt of Detroit pitched a five-hitter for his 15th win to beat the White Sox, 7-2, in their opener. Then Bob Keegan and Billy Pierce joined for a six-hit shutout effort to give the Sox the second game, 3-0.

Dodgers Win Two

In the National league, the Brooklyn Dodgers reduced their pennant-clinching "magic number" to "three" by sweeping Philadelphia, 11-4 and 8-2. They mathematically eliminated both Philadelphia and New York and now can clinch at least a tie for the pennant Wednesday night by beating Milwaukee.

In other N. L. action Monday, Sam Jones of Chicago shut out Milwaukee on five hits, 2-0 before Ray Crone of the Braves shut out the Cubs on three, 1-0; the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Giants in 10 innings, 8-5, before Don Liddle of New York won the second, 6-3; and the St. Louis Cards won a single game from Cincinnati in 10 innings, 3-2.

Legion Wins One, Drops Two Over Holiday

The Harrisburg Legion nine had a rather poor baseball Labor Day week as they dropped a couple of games while winning only one. The win was over the Gallatin, Tenn. Travelers and the losses were to the Old Hickory Barons of Nashville and the Uniontown, Ky., Cardinals.

At Gallatin, the locals got off to a fine start as they drubbed the Travelers by a 10 to 5 score but they ran into trouble with the Barons who scored a 5 to 3 triumph over the Legion to get a measure of revenge for the two losses that the locals had administered to them in previous meetings. Both games were seven inning affairs and Don Wallace, the Legion's hard throwing right hander, handled all 14 innings for the locals, limiting the Travelers to six hits and the Barons to seven in going both routes.

Dick Odle with a home run and two doubles and Harold Gulley with three singles supplied most of the winners' punch in the Gallatin game. Fred Williams, "Flash" Griffiths, Merle Dailey, Bob Dallas and Wallace collected a brace of safeties each with Wallace contributing a homer as one of his safeties. Frank Logsdon had the remaining hit.

In the game with the Barons the locals built up a 3-0 lead over the home club before things changed in the fifth when the winners scored four times to take the lead and cop the contest. Gulley and Griffiths led the Legion offense in this game with two hits each.

Big Bill McNew tossed the game for the Legion against the Uniontown, Ky. team Labor Day afternoon and despite the fact that he whiffed 14 of the Cardinals and allowed only four safeties, the Legion dropped the game by a 7 to 3 score. Three of the four walks given up by McNew led to scoring opportunities for the Cardinals and then the local defense had a lapse in the sixth inning which led to three unearned tallies which proved decisive in bringing the win to the home club. Griffiths paced the Legion's seven-hit total with two singles while Odle had a triple with Hay, Wallace, Romonosky and McNew garnering singles.

Dick Romonosky was behind the plate all the way for the Legion in all three contests.

Next Sunday the Legion will entertain the Uniontown Cardinals here at the park diamond and it is expected that Big Jim Bumpus will do the hurling for the visitors.

Bryan Sets New Record in Ted Horn Memorial Auto Race

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Jimmy Bryan, Phoenix, Ariz., set a new record Monday at the Du Quoin State Fair in the Ted Horn Memorial auto race.

Bryan's record time was one hour, four minutes and 9.05 seconds for the 100 lap race. The previous record had been set in 1949 by Tony Bettenhausen, Tinley Park, Ill., who finished in one hour, six minutes and 37.13 seconds.

Jack McGrath, Los Angeles, came in second, followed by George Emich, also of Los Angeles, who finished third.

Indianapolis "500" winner Bob Sweikert had led the pack up to the last lap when his car blew a tire and hurtled into a fence. Unhurt, Sweikert reentered the race and finished fifth. Until the crash, Sweikert had lapped most of the field.

Native Raccoon

The raccoon is found only in North and Central America, from Alaska in the north to Costa Rica in the south. It is common to the whole of the United States.

Looking

At

Sports

By BILL MELTON
Southern Illinois university grid coach Al Kawal was hopeful but overly optimistic as he concluded his first day of practice with a near record turnout of more than 30 candidates. "It looks like the team will be loaded with freshmen," Kawal observed as he surveyed the more than 40 freshmen and reflected that he had only 11 lettermen returning.

Contact work began at SIU Sept. 1, when Kawal launched a schedule of three drills and two "skull practices" a day. First practice begins at 9:30 a. m. with the final scrimmage set for 7:30 each evening.

Three former HTHS gridders are listed among the first year candidates. They are Gary Trammel, halfback; Jim Zimmer, end; Jack Dale, tackle.

Other former South Seven performers among the freshmen candidates are Leonard Taylor, guard, Centralia; James Lynch, guard, Benton; Vernon Rush, end, Centralia; J. W. Sanders, guard, Mt. Vernon; Roland Burris, quarterback, Centralia; Bill Norwood, quarterback, Centralia; Richard Steptoe, tackle, Centralia.

Upperclassmen candidates from South Seven conference schools are Ken Walker, quarterback, West Frankfort; Larry Cooksey, center, Centralia; Bob Miller, guard, Benton; Gerald Hart, quarterback, West Frankfort; Paul Kays, tackle, Benton; Jim McCann, guard, West Frankfort.

Johnston City fans are looking forward to a rip-snortin' high school football team this season, with 14 lettermen included in the group of candidates working out under Coach Pete Truran. Included in the group of 14 monogram winners are seven of last season's starting eleven. The 1954 edition of Indians posted a winning season of six victories in nine outings, so it seems that the fans have good reason to expect great things in the fast-approaching 1955 season.

The Carmi Bull Dogs, who have compiled a fine won-and-lost record in recent years on the high school gridiron, will be light this year according to reports. It is said the linemen range from 145 to 175 and the backfield from 135 to 165. There are 12 lettermen in the 60 or more candidates for this year's squad.

Stars Defeat Evansville All-Stars, 11-10

The Harrisburg Stars downed the Evansville College All-Stars 11-10 in a thrilling 10-inning game played at the town park Monday afternoon.

For the local Star's it was 11 runs on 13 hits and they committed three errors. The College All-Stars scored nine runs, made 10 hits and errored twice.

Shewmake and Ziegler hurled for the locals with Hughes behind the plate. Weiss was on the mound for Evansville with Ferguson and Collins sharing the catching duties.

Evansville got away for three runs in the first inning on a hit batsman, two infield errors and a base hit. The visitors scored two more in the third and picked up two more in the fourth, with a long home run by Collins featuring the fourth-frame rally.

Harrisburg started its move in the bottom of the fourth when Karnes poled a long homer to deep left field. This was followed by an error, allowing Ziegler to reach base, Hughes then doubled and Harrison singled for two more tallies.

Two more runs crossed for Harrisburg in the fifth on a single by Smith, Hughes' second double, a sacrifice fly by Harrison and an Evansville error. In the seventh Karnes drew a pass, Ziegler doubled and Harrison singled for a pair. Karnes hit his second homer in the eighth to put Harrisburg in front, but Evansville scored three in the ninth to again take the lead.

In the bottom of the ninth Harrisburg tied the score and then won in the tenth with a lone tally. Karnes paced all hitters with four hits in as many tries, including two homers, a double and a single. Hughes had three hits and Harrison two. Nolen, Smith, Ziegler and Price had on hit each.

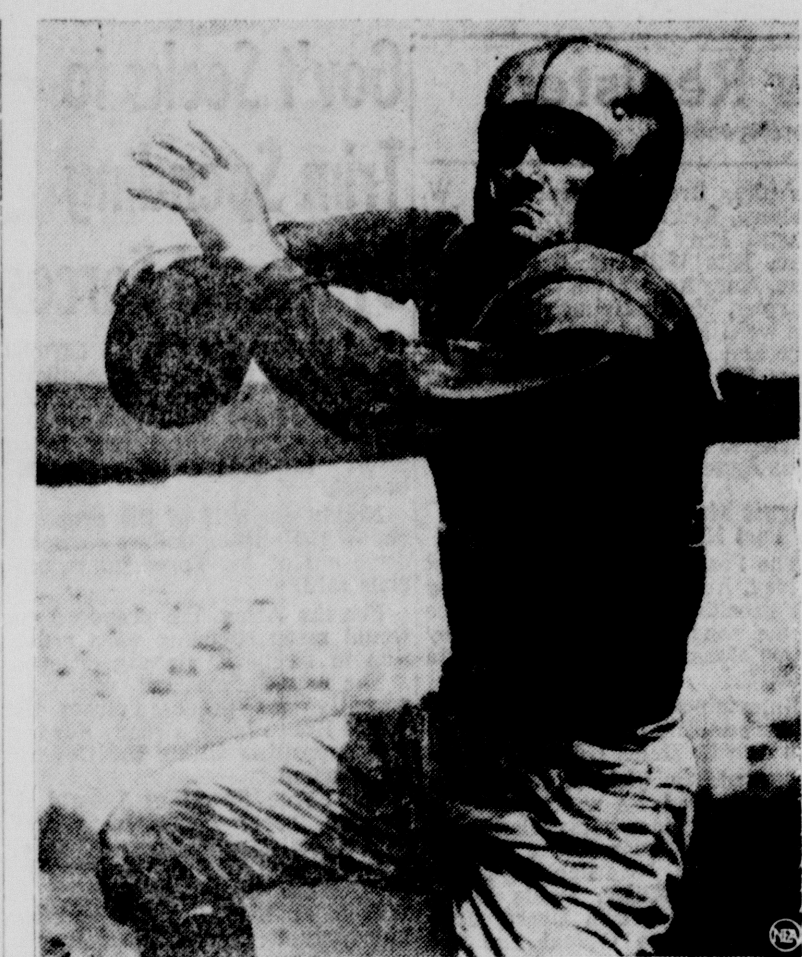

Next Sunday the Stars play at Henderson, Ky., and a practice session is scheduled for Friday at 5 p. m. at the town park diamond.

Frick to Meet with Pennant Contenders To Plan World Series

NEW YORK (AP)—Commissioner Ford Frick will meet with the major league pennant contenders today to make plans for the 1955 World Series.

Frick asked all clubs in both leagues with "reasonable" pennant hopes to send representatives to his office for the session.

The series is scheduled to open Wednesday, Sept. 28, in the park of the American League pennant winner. After two games in the American League park, the next three will be played in the park of the National League champion. The last two games of the seven-game series, if necessary, would be played in the American League park.

East St. Louis Flyers Again Seen Powerhouse for Football Season

By United Press
Illinois high school football starts a week from Friday with reports that most of the schools which dominated their conferences and areas last year will be strong again this year.

But past experience has shown prep forecasting is an even more hazardous business than the college variety, with some teams growing up awfully fast between seasons. Surprises are expected. Almost immune to surprise, however, are the kings of downstate football, the East St. Louis Flyers.

The Flyers are unbeaten and untied in 32 games. They haven't bitten the dust since Belleville trampled them 20-6 in November, 1951. In the past three seasons they have run out of competition in their area.

New Flyer Coach

Wirt Downing, who had a record of 114-18-7 in 16 years at East St. Louis, has stepped down, leaving Fred Cameron, assistant for the past 10 years, as Flyer head coach.

In the Big Eight Conference, champ East Aurora is the favorite, but four teams could give the champs a battle.

Elgin, with a strong backfield but questionable line replacements, is considered a strong contender. West Rockford hopes a new split-T attack with a fast backfield will baffle opponents. East Rockford has a huskier line, La Salle-Peru has backfield problems but could jell.

Of all the defending conference titlists, Peoria Central of the Big 12 may be coming back strongest. The Lions have 17 returning lettermen. Coach Tony Juska has drawn little sympathy with his argument that he may be weak in experience and reserves.

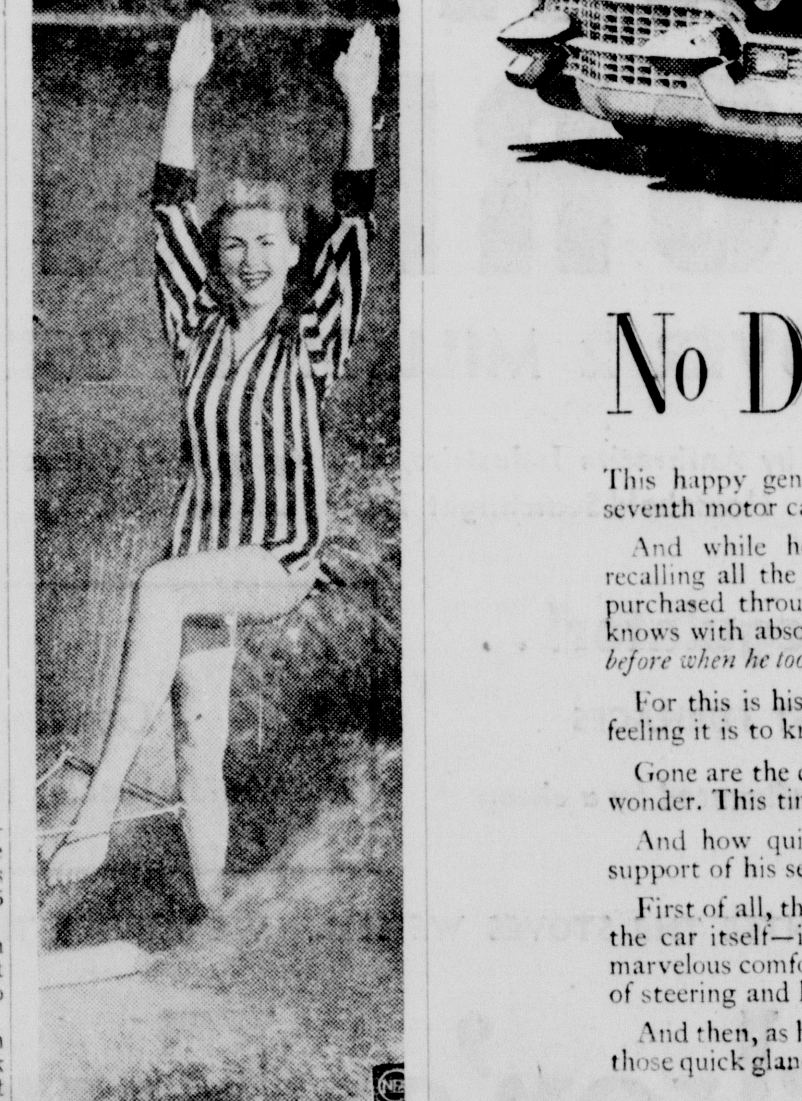

Quad-City Preps Strong

While all claim this will be a "building" year, Decatur, Danville, Urbana, Pekin and perhaps Springfield could be on the rise in the Big 12. Most of these had improving teams last year and will have a solid core of veterans from the 1954 clubs back.

Midget Racer Killed

SHAWANO, Wis. (AP)—Joseph Balistreri, a 25-year-old midget automobile racing driver from Milwaukee, was killed Monday when his car went out of control and struck a fence midway in the 25-mile race at the Shawano County Fair.

GOOD SCORE — Molly Ardrey, with an eye on the football season, dons a referee's shirt and gives the touchdown signal while being towed by an ankle, water-skiing at Cypress Gardens, Fla. A very neat trick.

Calufetti Lists Members of Bull Dog Grid Teams

First and Second Squads Named; Beers Again Coaching

Coach Lawrence Calufetti this week began forming his Bull Dog grid teams after a week of practice sessions which dealt chiefly with getting his boys into shape.

The two-day sessions, which were in progress since last Monday, ended yesterday.

The situation can change greatly from session to session, as various players show improvement but yesterday Calufetti had a first string eleven which consisted of Ronnie Williams at center, Richard Hess and Jay Waite at guards, Ken Price and Everett Evans at tackles, Jim Williams and Joe Lee Dorris at ends, Wayman Hefner at quarterback, Jack Wright and Fred McKenzie at halfbacks and Tony Beal at fullback. All of these boys have been under fire previously in varsity competition although the play of three or four has been limited.

When Calufetti started running plays yesterday with this first string choice, he had the following second team lineup: Colin Eddy at center, Lindell Stacy and Lou Williams at guards, Ronnie Reynolds and Dickie Drue at tackles, Jim Cummins at quarterback, Mike Hays and Jack Foster at halfbacks and John Ziegler at fullback. Ronnie Vick and Harold Guard saw action at the guard posts.

The coaches seem high with the play of Dickie Drue, a junior tackle. Drue, a lad who listens and improves himself weighed about 135 pounds as a freshman, about 165 as a sophomore last year and weighs 184 this season.

Meanwhile, added coaching help has been secured for the squad. Jim Beers, who had charge of the Bull Pups about seven or eight years ago and had one of the best freshman-sophomore teams in the past decade, with such players as Gene Pavelonis and Lou Bobka, has returned to the gridiron. Beers gave up the coaching game when he was named assistant principal by Principal R. L. McConnell, a post he still holds. But he has returned to the game and he and Ben Chamness are working the freshman-sophomore hopefuls.

Cadillac

No Doubt In His Mind This Time !

This happy gentleman has just taken title to his seventh motor car.

And while he would probably have difficulty recalling all the different makes and models he has purchased through the years, there is one thing he knows with absolute certainty: He never felt like this before when he took the keys and made for the open road.

For this is his first Cadillac! And what a glorious feeling it is to know he has chosen the "car of cars"!

Gone are the doubt . . . and the worry . . . and the wonder. This time he knows he's right!

And how quickly the evidence will assemble in support of his sentiment!

First of all, there will be the eloquent testimony of the car itself—its magnificent performance . . . its marvelous comfort and ride . . . and its incredible ease of steering and handling.

And then, as he travels the boulevard, there will be those quick glances of approval from his fellow motorists to tell him that he is not alone in his judgment.

And, finally, there will be that assembly of family and friends that awaits him at journey's end . . . offering final confirmation of the wisdom of his choice.

* * *

Of course, the man who takes title to a new Cadillac today enjoys the double satisfaction of having made the wisest possible choice at the wisest possible time.

Because of Cadillac's increased year-end production, for instance, he will find that he can have surprisingly prompt delivery on his new Cadillac.

And, as if this were not sufficient in itself, we are also in a position—because of our low inventory of used cars—to offer him a most generous allowance on his present automobile.

Why not come in soon—and spend an hour at the wheel—and let us acquaint you more fully with this unique opportunity?

Gets Results, Composes Ode to Register Classifieds

Mrs. John Mathias is a Register classified ad reader, who availed herself of the opportunity to mulch her flowers with corn cobs advertised in a Daily Register classified. She got results that surprised her so much that she composed a poem about it.

Her "ode to the want ad" follows:

"Gotta little story I'd like to tell:

'Twas an ad for something that wasn't to sell.

The Daily Register ran an ad like this:

'Free Corn cobs—Come and get 'em.'

I didn't miss this.

Saw a boy up the lane who got me some cobs

Which lessened my work, leaving time for more jobs.

Some grains of corn among the cobs came up and grew and matured.

Which I picked and put up. Got ten pints yesterday and hope to can some more.

Now listen to me, and I'll tell you the score.

Gov't Seeks to Trim Spending By Armed Forces

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official sources said today the administration will try to trim $1,700,000,000 from scheduled military spending for the current fiscal year in an effort to balance the federal budget.

Nearly one-half of the proposed cut — 750 million dollars — would come out of Air Force funds, officials said.

For the Army, the proposed cut would mean speeding up a reduction in strength, already ordered.

The new defense cut, which apparently was proposed from the White House level, already has run into opposition within the Defense Department.

Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles, accompanied by several of his assistant secretaries, made a secret visit during the weekend to Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson at his Michigan vacation hide-away to protest the cuts.

Wilson was understood to have assured the Air Force leaders that he would not agree to any cut that would interfere with the Air Force program to build up to 137 wings by mid-1957.

The administration move to cut defense spending comes at a time when it is trying to cut over-all government expenditures and arrive at a balanced budget in the present 1956 fiscal year which ends next June 30.

The Senate Republican Policy Committee, in a memorandum issued today, said that Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey "with the backing of President Eisenhower" has "opened a government-wide campaign to hold down on spending with the objective of balancing the budget this fiscal year."

Humphrey himself said last month that the budget "should and could" be balanced this year.

Fatally Shot In Gun Duel

PARIS, Ill. (AP) — John Francis Twigg, 36, was killed by a shot through the heart in an apparent gun duel Monday night.

Police said Louis Goins, who was wounded in the right forearm, admitted shooting Twigg at Goins' trailer home. He was held without charge at Paris hospital.

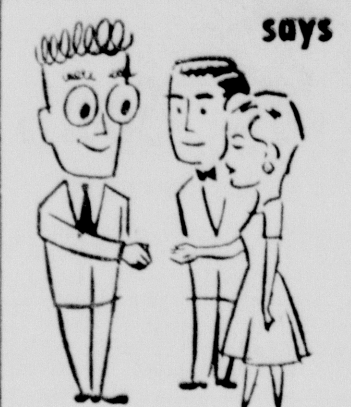

Twigg had apparently got into an argument with Goins, a Negro, over Twigg's wife, police said.

Officers also held Robert Pennell, 67, in Edgar county jail. They said Mrs. Twigg reported that Pennell told her he gave a gun to Twigg and urged him to shoot Goins.

Boy Lives 39 Days with Body Of Slain Father

BOSTON (AP) — A poetry-writing Boy Scout, who lived for 39 days with the body of his father after allegedly stabbing him to death, today faced arraignment on a murder charge.

The boy, 17-year-old Arthur H. Martin of South Boston admitted the July 28 slaying, police said, after his mother, Mrs. Isabel Martin, 39, discovered the body of her husband, Manuel, 52, Monday night.

Mrs. Martin had returned to the apartment from a summer vacation at South Dartmouth. She discovered the body, clad in underwear, in an upstairs bedroom. As police arrived, young Martin told them calmly, "I'm the one you're looking for, I did it."

Police said the youth, described by neighbors as a "quiet, likeable boy," signed a confession in which he said he stabbed his father following an argument in which the father called him "lazy."

The youth, one of seven children in the family, told police he then washed up, drank some of his father's liquor and went to sleep. He continued to sleep in the house with the corpse, police said, until Monday night.

Second Victim Of Crash Dies

CAIRO, Ill. (AP) — A Peoria woman died here today of injuries received in a traffic accident that killed a man Monday.

Two Indicted In Boy's Death

SUMNER, Miss. (AP) — A Tallahatchie county grand jury today indicted two white men, Roy Bryant and J. W. Milam, for the murder of 14-year-old Emmett Till of Chicago.

The two men, half brothers, have confessed that they kidnapped the 14-year-old Chicago Negro. But they have denied killing him, saying they released him unharmed when they decided he was not "the one" who allegedly insulted Bryant's young wife with a wolf-whistle in a country store.

Pilot Says Record Will Be Broken

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Col. Horace A. Hanes, Air Force test pilot who set a new world speed record of 822.135 miles an hour to win the Thompson trophy at the National Air Show, thinks his record will be broken before long.

The official announcement of Hanes' record flight climaxed the three-day air show at International Airport here during the Labor Day weekend.

The flight could not be staged in front of the crowd of 102,000 persons who jammed the airport on the final day. Instead, the official run for the trophy was staged 40,000 feet above the Mojave desert near Palmdale, Calif., on Aug. 20.

Hanes streaked over the 18.110 kilometer (about 11 miles) course twice in opposite directions.

The first barbed wire was made in 1873 by Joseph F. Glidden of DeKalb, Illinois.
